

KIDNAPER OF MICHIGAN BRIDE CAUGHT

BRITAIN READY TO WITHDRAW
IN HOLY LANDPALESTINE PUZZLE
LAP OF U. N.

By JOHN A. PARRIS JR.
Lake Success, Oct. 16 (AP)—Britain prepared today to re-emphasize her determination to withdraw from Palestine at an early date and leave the solution of the Holy Land problem solely to the United Nations.

Arthur Creech-Jones, British colonial secretary, was selected by the London government to make this policy declaration as the 57-member Palestine committee scheduled meetings for 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. in a speed-up drive aimed at concluding the opening round of debate by Saturday.

Meanwhile, the U. S. rallied substantial support for Secretary of State Marshall's year-around assembly plan as the first test vote approached.

Joseph Bech of Luxembourg chairman of the assembly's political committee, announced he would call for a vote this afternoon or tomorrow on an Australian resolution to send the American proposal into subcommittee for re-drafting.

Thus far eight nations have announced support of the Marshall Plan while the Russian-led Slavic bloc has denounced it as a means to destroy cooperation between the Soviet Union and the western powers.

As the U. S. proposal now stands, Russia is apparently prepared to boycott the "little assembly" if it is established. Some quarters said the Australian resolution may be aimed at watering down the plan in an effort to make it acceptable to the Soviet Union.

It was learned that Guillermo Beltrán of Cuba may sponsor an amendment to the U. S. proposal which would declare that one of the "little assembly's" functions would be to investigate for the next year all possible charter changes, including the veto.

As the assembly's Palestine committee moved farther into debate, interest centered on the British attitude toward a solution, which thus far has been non-committal and apparently will remain so.

A British informant said that Creech-Jones' speech would be primarily a reply to any who believed Britain was bluffing when she announced her plan for early withdrawal from Palestine.

The informant said the British delegate wanted to make it absolutely clear that the London government meant business.

Although Britain is not ready to announce a withdrawal date, he said, such a date might be set before the end of the present assembly session. He said a target date for withdrawal is now being discussed.

Judge Starr Joins
Sen. Vandenberg In Hospital Check-up

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 16 (AP)—Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr has joined Michigan Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in Butterworth hospital—also expecting to undergo a "routine check-up."

The Republican senator, who went into the hospital a week ago for a thorough examination, was expected to be released later this week. His wife, recuperating from a bladder operation, was progressing satisfactorily.

Howling Hurricane
Stilled To Whisper
In Georgia's Pines

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16 (AP)—A once howling tropical hurricane was only a whisper among south Georgia pines today after a damaging, footloose march which carried it across Florida's tip into the Atlantic and back to pound at Georgia's coast.

The Caribbean born storm left in its wake a trail of human discomfort and relatively minor property damage—uprooted trees, fallen power and telephone lines, leaky roofs, broken windows and twisted and torn signs.

There were other aftermaths of the storm, however, which could not be lightly dismissed.

Floods still covered rich truck farming areas in southern Florida around Miami and a heavy surf was still beating at the coast from Florida to South Carolina.

Only one casualty was attributable directly to the hurricane. Neill McCord, 35-year-old Negro lumberjack of Thomaston, Ga., was killed when a tree crashed upon his cabin near Charleston, S. C.

After passing over Southern Florida Sunday the hurricane was believed headed for the north Atlantic, but curved back and headed directly for Tybee Island just off Savannah. Many of the residents there had gone to bed with no thought of a hurricane.

Fire sirens and the rush of men with flashlights through dark streets gave the alarm. Before water curled over the causeway leading to the mainland, most of the residents had escaped.

The damage at Savannah was estimated officially at $1,000,000. At Savannah Beach on Tybee, a resort playground, the damage was placed at $500,000.

For the most part the full fury of the storm, with winds up to 100 miles an hour, spent itself against the desolate, but picturesque Savannah, a paradise for water fowl.

FLOOD BATTLED
IN EVERGLADESDikes Piled Up To Hold
Back Inland Sea; Farm
Losses In Millions

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Oct. 16 (AP)—Southeast Florida continued its fight against encroaching waters of the worst everglades flood in years today with conditions reported improving slightly in some areas and worsening in others.

Engineers studying the overall picture in the 5,000,000-acre flood area still assigned the most critical rating to a three-weeks old battle to hold the water behind Conner's highway near Canal Point to prevent the inundation of the Belle Glade-Pahokee section.

It was a grim job of trying to pile up dirt on the roadway faster than the water could pile up behind it. A two-foot head was reported behind the highway dike.

Newer and lesser problems exist at Fort Lauderdale, Hialeah and Miami Springs. Flood fighters there appeared to be holding their own but all hands agreed their tasks would be greater if the Conner's highway line fails to hold.

The sluggish flood, which turned the murky everglades into a shallow, slowly moving inland sea, already has done most of its damage.

Millions of dollars worth of crops, cattle, roads and improved property have been lost or severely hurt.

The big problem now seems to be getting the water off the land before another heavy rain. Everglades farmers accustomed to catastrophe were beginning to plant their fall crops of beans on every dry acre that could be found.

New Three-Wheeled
Auto In Production
At Van Nuys, Calif.

Van Nuys, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—The first Davis automobile, a three-wheeled car which the manufacturer says can attain a speed of 116 miles per hour, rolled off an assembly line at the Davis plant here yesterday.

The Davis is a coupe with a removable hard top, has a wheelbase of 108 inches and is powered with a four cylinder 66-horsepower engine. Gary Davis, head of the firm, said the three-wheeler will sell for $995 for Los Angeles and slightly higher east of the Rockies.

Arab League Pledged
To Throttle Zionism
With Border Boycott

Beirut, Lebanon, Oct. 16 (AP)—Abdel Rahman Azzam Fasha, secretary general of the Arab league, said today the league had adopted strict measures intended to throttle Zionism economically. He declined to discuss details except to say that the measures included provisions for tightening the Arab boycott of Jewish goods and for closing the frontiers of all Arab states to the Jews.

The league wound up its current sessions on the Palestine situation last night. Azzam Fasha said that although the members had decided to shelve for the present any plans for cancelling present American and British oil and air agreements with Arab states they had decided to call a general economic conference next February to deal with "mutual interests in trade, industry and agriculture."

The league's political action committee recommended a month ago that economic action be taken against states endorsing partition of Palestine into independent Arab and Jewish states.

Referring to the plans of the Arab world for military action against the Jews in Palestine, as recommended last week by the league, Azzam Fasha declared: "Just as the Arab league was born in Cairo for Arab cooperation, so at this conference it has been reborn in military cooperation for defense of Arab territories."

He termed the Beirut sessions of the league the "greatest milestone of Arab development since the league was founded."

The secretary general said the league, at its closing session, also sent a note to the foreign ministers of the big four demanding independence for Libya, which has split into two Italian colonies, Cyrenaica and Tripolitania. Deputy foreign ministers of the big four in London now are deliberating the future of Italy's African colonies.

The league also voted full support of Egypt in her dispute with Britain over the Sudan and evacuation of British troops from Egyptian soil.

Hearing Postponed
On Evans Ouster As Aeronautics Chief

Lansing, Oct. 16 (AP)—A meeting of the State Aeronautics Commission today which was to hear demands for the ouster of Floyd E. Evans, director, has been postponed until next Tuesday.

Evans said inability of all members to attend forced the postponement.

His resignation has been demanded by the Aviation Association of Michigan, an organization of flight school operators.

Truman Says Special Session Is Possibility

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—President Truman said today there still is a possibility he will call a special session of Congress to deal with Europe's financial plight.

The president told his news conference no decision has been made and that the administration is still continuing its search for funds for stop-gap aid to Western Europe.

The questions to Mr. Truman were prompted by published reports that officials see fair prospects that emergency help for Europe can be supplied without a special session.

Mr. Truman said administration financial officials have had considerable success in their efforts to develop stop-gap aid.

PLUMBER AND TEAMSTER TO
BOSS THE AFLGREEN RE-ELECTED;
MEANY LINED UP
AS SUCCESSOR

By HAROLD W. WARD
San Francisco, Oct. 16 (AP)—A Bronx plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the Teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the AFL's affairs from now until next fall, when the federation meets again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted that the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the 66th annual get-together of the labor group.

Lewis Snowed Under
Together Meany and Tobin overwhelmed John L. Lewis and William L. Hutchison with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the executive council, it was Hutchison who suffered most. He and his carpenters have wielded the big stick in the federation since 1915.

Lewis and his United Mine Workers never had much of a chance to get support of the other delegates in their stand against

Captain Bentgen,
State Ferry Chief,
Dies In Petoskey

Petoskey, Mich., Oct. 16 (Special to the Escanaba Daily Press)—Capt. Hillard Bentgen, 50, superintendent of Michigan state ferries since Aug. 1, 1943, and a resident of St. Ignace since early boyhood, died at 8:30 this morning in the Petoskey hospital, where he had been a patient for nine days.

Captain Bentgen, who was well known throughout the Great Lakes shipping area, suffered a heart attack about three years ago but had been in apparent good health until a few days when a heart condition necessitated his admittance to the hospital here.

He was born in Lyons, Ill., but moved to St. Ignace when a boy and attended schools there. Besides his wife, Lucille, he leaves four sons and two daughters, all of whom reside in St. Ignace. They are Robert, William, Bruce, Jack, Ruth and Mrs. Dorothy Bentgen Brown.

Prior to his appointment as state ferries superintendent in 1943, he was engaged in business with the Arnold Transit company at Mackinac Island for about eight years. Prior to then, he was with the state highway department.

The body will be taken to St. Ignace for burial.

POLICE STATION ROBBED

Algonquin, Ill., Oct. 16 (AP)—Police in this small northern Illinois community have kept crime at the zero mark for several months but now they are trying to solve one in which they were the victims.

Burglars broke into the police station and stole two revolvers, three boxes of cartridges, 10 special police badges, keys to the jail and the town waterworks.

Cutter Rescues 69
At Sea, Gets Second
Mission Of Mercy

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—The coast guard cutter Bibb, speeding toward Boston with 69 persons rescued from a huge ditched flying boat in mid-Atlantic, performed another mercy mission at dawn today by removing an ill seaman from a sister cutter.

The Bibb advised coast guard headquarters it had taken aboard a seaman ill with appendicitis from the Cutter Duane. Because of heavy seas, the Bibb's arrival time in Boston is uncertain, the message added.

The Bibb previously had fought in heroic battle against heaving seas to remove the passengers and crew of the giant plane, the Bermuda flying queen. The Duane has relieved the Bibb of its weather station duties. Capt. Paul B. Cronk, skipper of the Bibb, said that after the transfer he would head his ship toward Boston to land the rescued persons who, he reported, were none the worse for their harrowing experience.

The airliner, its fuel supply depleted, was forced down in the salt-whipped North Atlantic Tuesday. Using rafts and lifeboats, the Bibb's seamen fought mountainous waves and high winds to remove the plane's occupants in what naval circles hailed as one of the sea's great rescue operations.

In a radio broadcast from the Bibb, Cronk said last night that he and members of his crew "sort of have the feeling that we are coming out of a nightmare."

"I didn't want to tell you in yesterday's (Tuesday) broadcast but I can tell you now that yesterday we weren't really optimistic. I didn't describe the sinking feeling in the pit of my stomach seeing that plane plunging down into the sea and wondering how, if at all, we were going to get those people out of there and when she was going to break up or blow up and go to the bottom."

After the rescue, the abandoned flying boat was sunk by the Bibb's guns as a menace to navigation.

CHICAGO SUBURB
SLAYER HUNTEDMother Of Three Victim
Of Brutal Attack; Body
Found In Car Trunk

Chicago, Oct. 16 (AP)—Law enforcement officers in Cook county joined with authorities in nearby DuPage county today in a search for the slayer of a 35-year-old woman whose mutilated and nearly nude body was found stuffed in the trunk of her automobile yesterday.

The victim of the brutal attack was Mrs. Catherine M. Wasil, mother of three young children. The youngest, William, 17 months old, was found lying on the front seat of the car parked on a highway near suburban West Chicago. He was not injured. Her husband, Stephen J., 41, a bricklayer, was quoted by police as saying his wife had been missing from home with William for two weeks.

Police said they were seeking for questioning a man named by Wasil as his wife's close friend. Sgt. Nick Reidy of the Chicago homicide detail said the man named by Wasil had not been at home for a week. Police said Wasil told them his wife frequently disappeared without explanation and he did not report her absence when she left two weeks ago.

Mrs. Wasil's body, found by a truck driver and a passing motorist who noticed the child in the car, was cut, burned and battered so badly that Joseph Dieter, acting coroner of DuPage county, said it was impossible to determine which of her wounds caused death.

Return of Summer
Extended For Day;
Chicago Record 88

(By The Associated Press)

Summer's return engagement over most of the country was extended at least another day by the weather bureau today.

Unseasonably warm weather and generally clear skies were predicted for most of the nation following yesterday's above normal temperatures.

The mercury shot to near the 90 mark in some parts of the Midwest, and new records for the date and for October were set in many communities.

The 89 reading at Springfield, Ill., topped the marks in the desert, where the top in Yuma, Ariz., was 88 and in Phoenix, Ariz., was 84. Chicago's 88 set a new all time October high while Gladin, in northern Lower Michigan, had a summer reading of 87.

GUN-PLAY, NO HOLDUP

Detroit, (AP)—Receiving a report Wednesday that a man had been hit on the head with a gun, police expected a holdup had been attempted. But when they arrived at the designated spot they found that a painter's tool called a chaulking gun had fallen from a scaffold and struck Lloyd Foster, a 46-year-old workman, on the head. He was treated at Receiving hospital.

WOMAN TAKEN ON WILD RIDE
IN CALIFORNIATHIEF GAGS VICTIM
AND DUMPS HER OUT OF CAR

Glendale, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—An attractive 22-year-old Michigan bride was back at her home here today as police in San Bernardino grilled the kidnaper who drove her on a wild western ride Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ruth Radwanski, who was married to her husband Charles only two months ago after the couple graduated from Michigan State college, began her frightening adventure as she left a social at the Methodist church here, where she is organist, and climbed into her black convertible to start home.

Knocked Unconscious
A man appeared in the front seat of the car, she reported to police later, told her to move over and then knocked her unconscious with a blow on the head.

Before the assailant, identified as Robert Parrotte, 24, of Greenview, Miss., was captured nearly 12 hours later, he had bound and gagged the young bride and left her by the side of a highway, led police on a 100-mile-an-hour chase, sped across a railroad track inches ahead of an oncoming train and finally abandoned the car and tried to make a getaway on foot.

Mrs. Radwanski said she found herself speeding toward San Bernardino when she recovered consciousness after the slugging.

"I asked him what he intended to do with me," she related, "but he said he just wanted the car." A few minutes later, however, the man took $20 from her purse, returned $3 of it, put a gag in her mouth and dumped her from the car. She said she managed to attract the attention of a passing motorist, and they headed for San Bernardino to notify authorities.

It was an hour later that the Radwanski car was seen racing through Victorville, and the police chase began. A squad car—its speed sometimes approaching 100 miles an hour—followed Parrotte north into the desert, but the young driver outdistanced it. Two sheriff's cars that picked up the chase at Barstow also failed to catch the speeding convertible.

Revolver Not Loaded
At Ludlow, Parrotte slipped across the railroad tracks just ahead of a freight train that held up the pursuing officers about 12

Pheasant Hunting Season Opens With
23 Persons Injured

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A 17-year-old youth, shot in the chest and abdomen while pheasant hunting yesterday, was reported in critical condition, while other accidents injured 22 more persons on the first day of the lower Michigan season.

The Belding victim was Frederick Cowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cowles, Deputy Sheriff Ben Neve said the youth, hunting with three high school companions, was wounded by 15-year-old Charles Brown of Smyrna as the latter aimed at a squirrel.

Nineteen others were injured by gunshot, while two Detroit brothers, Joseph Hanson, 23, and Ronald, 16, were hurt when their rented plane slipped into the ground as they landed near Estey, Mich.

Among the wounded was U. S. district Attorney Joseph F. Deeb of Grand Rapids, who suffered minor injuries when a stray pellet from another hunter's gun struck him. He and his companion, Dr. Edward J. Rennell, medical director of the Coldwater state home and training school, were reported in good condition after the accident near Grand Rapids.

JURY AWARDS $437 DAMAGES

Verdict For Plaintiff; Personal Injury Suit Heard

A circuit court jury today reported, after deliberating about 20 minutes, a verdict in the amount of $437.94 for the plaintiff in the auto damage suit of Mrs. Carl O. Carlson of Rapid River vs. Edward H. Huesener of Gladstone.

It was the claim of the plaintiff, Mrs. Carlson, that the Carlson car was damaged and the family lost the use of the car because of an accident between the Carlson car and the Huesener car on Jan. 12, 1947, in Gladstone. The Carlson car was driven by John Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlson.

Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee is presiding in the circuit court here. The jury reported to the court that it found for the plaintiff in the amount of $437.94 for car repairs and $100 for the loss of use of the car.

Trial was opened today with the selection of a jury to hear the suit of Roy Cheunard vs. Joe Larson, in which the plaintiff seeks damages for personal injuries suffered in a car accident. The jury hearing the case is composed of the following:

Schedule Parade Of Pets And Dog Show Here Sunday

The second annual pet parade and dog show sponsored by the Farmers Supply company, 711 Stephenson avenue will be held in Escanaba Sunday, Oct. 19. All entrants must register before Saturday noon at the office of the Farmers Supply company either by calling in person or by telephoning their entry.

Gaining experience from the first event staged here last year, all dogs will be classed according to their breed and prizes will be awarded for the first three places in each class.

The parade will form at the Court House, corner of First avenue south and South Third street at 2 p. m. and will proceed to Ludington park where the judging will take place.

It is urged by the officials in charge of the event that only dogs on leash will be permitted to take part in either the parade or dog show regardless of registration. This is necessary to keep order in the lining up for the parade and to prevent any accident that might occur because of an excited dog allowed to run loose.

Judges for the event include the following: Mrs. Alex E. Hawkins, Humane Society local representative, James Christie, Dr. P. B. Molinare, Dr. L. J. Heiden and County Agricultural Agent Joseph Heilmann.

The following listing gives the classes and breeds in each class that will be the rule for this event:

Open Class—All childrens pets. Sporting Class—Pointers, Setters and Spaniels.

Working Class—Collies, St. Bernards, Dobermans, German Shepherds, Eskimo, Malamute, Schnauzer, Great Dane and Boxer.

More Than 2,000 Spring Flowers Planted In City

Fifteen hundred tulips have been planted at the city municipal dock, 350 daffodils and hyacinths at Rose Park and 350 tulips and crocuses at the city recreation center, it was reported today.

The mass planting marks the first time the city park department has planted flowers on such a large scale, and whether it will be repeated annually depends in a large part on the cooperation of the public, it was pointed out.

If the flowers are not vandalized next spring, the department will plant tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and crocuses again next year. The plantings were made under the supervision of Floyd Benson, city park foreman.

Escanaba National Guard Company is Largest In State

Lansing, Oct. 16 (P) — The Michigan National Guard's recruiting campaign is running at approximately 60 per cent of assigned quota at the mid-point, National Guard headquarters said today.

With 189 new enlistments reported in the past week, the campaign has brought in 822 new recruits and the Guard strength now stands at 4,805. A total of 3,230 new recruits is sought by Nov. 16.

The adjutant general's office said the largest company-size unit in the Guard now is Escanaba's Company C, with 109 men and only 25 short of authorized strength. Company A of Coldwater is leading the infantry companies, while the 119th Field Artillery Battery of Grand Lodge and the 17th Infantry Regiment of Detroit are leading the Field Artillery batteries.

Western Michigan's 126th Infantry Regiment was reported leading the drive this week with 46 additional enlistments to achieve a strength of 1,015 men.

The headquarters said Pfc. Elsie W. Henry of Marquette is still the leading individual recruiter, with 7 Sgt. Charles A. Thompson of Coldwater, second, S/Sgt. Joseph Kawiak of Detroit third and Pvt. Joseph Truckey of Escanaba fourth.

Cinnamon was used frequently by the early Greeks as a votive offering to the gods.

was reported in fair condition. Both accident victims are in St. Francis hospital.

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Spirited, Talented Concert Delivered By Columbus Boys

It was a grand night for singing last night. And the Columbus Boychoir did great justice to the occasion in their concert opening the Town Hall season in Escanaba under the new management of Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Boychoir, under direction of Herbert Huffman, opened the concert ears of the packed auditorium with their rendition of Handel's "Virgines Prudentes," a motet for eight-part double chorus. The "Kyrie" of Antonio Lotti followed and was a very good performance. In the succeeding number, Mozart's "Alleluja," the choir of boys, from 9 to 14 years old, gave forth with volume and fine part work.

With singing of Schubert's "Ave Maria" the choir introduced a soloist of about ten years who captivated the audience with his fine tones and control. Throughout the program, in various solo and choral work, he maintained that popularity and one had the feeling of being near to something which is nearly angelic. To see him play the fair maiden in the comic opera however changes this impression somewhat.

The choir then performed Ades-Fideles and Silent Night introducing still another soloist, who had fine tones and range.

The second section of the program, Mozart's Comic opera, "Bastien and Bastienne," is the sort of fairytale fantasy children love and excel in. Grown-ups too incidentally. To parody The Master, in the beginning there were 40 male voices, representing the gold choir of Columbus Boychoir school. Then came Mozart, and the number of males in the cast was just half—and 20 young maidens mirrored about the stage.

If there was anyone in the audience who did not appreciate the dance and its historical grace, the regal costuming and fine showmanship of the dancers, and the dramatic and voice work of the cast, he wouldn't have dared to open his mouth. "Oh's and 'Ah's" interspersed the performance like dandelions in a spring lawn.

Musical direction for the opera was again by Mr. Huffman, director of the school and founder. The dance was directed by Stella Becker and costumes by Mrs. C. E. Blanchard.

Throughout the entire performance last night, the accompaniment and pianistry of Aaron Cohen was of good quality and showed an understanding of his concertists. In the third portion of the concert, following a fine performance of the modern Palestinian dance "Hora" by Julius Chajes, Mr. Cohen led the way with his arrangement of Gershwin's "Summertime" from Porgy and Bess. The choir responded with that precision and spirit which marks any performance as outstanding in enjoyability.

On what was to be the "piece de resistance" of the concert appearance, two boys, one the soloist so loved by the audience took the lead in "The Deaf Old Woman." Though, to quote some, it was just a Missouri folk song, the boys gave forth with an interesting bit of voice work.

During the entire performance the boys followed their director with attentiveness and demonstrated good direction and training.

McGimsey was revived for his "Shadrack" in the last of the program and this became the lead for an unscheduled part of the program which was devoted to interpretation of popular semi-classics.

Recently a music director in Escanaba remarked that the city was exceptionally music-minded for its size. This was amply demonstrated last night for the audience used the old hand-clap time and again for return choral numbers.

These included the Whiffenpoof Song, Mamselle (that hit which began with "The Razor's Edge") "Shortnin Bread," "Joshua" and the Echo Song, beloved madrigal.

The Boychoir, which sang portions a cappella with commendable ability, closed their program with The Lord's Prayer and sent the audience away with heads bowed in reverence and lighted smiles on their faces.

Michael Corry, 92, Dies in Marinette

Marinette Wis.—Michael Corry, who had lived in Marinette since he was two years old, died early Monday morning at the age of 92 at his home, 837 Terrace avenue. He was one of the oldest residents in Marinette county and probably the entire Menominee river region.

Like most young men of his time, Mr. Corry was lured by the lumber business that first brought his father to Menominee. For 36 years he was connected with the Sawyer-Goodman company. During the years he acquired many land holdings which he operated from a downtown office. Until five years ago he was active in business affairs and maintained his affiliations with civic undertakings.

Mr. Corry had extensive holdings in the Upper Peninsula and locally at one time they included most of the land surrounding his Terrace avenue residence for several second ward blocks.

Surviving are two sons, Police Judge Dan J. Corry and Michael S. Corry, both of Marinette, and a daughter, Mrs. A. B. Andersen of LaGrange, Ill. Four grandchildren also survive.

Attempts Suicide By Cutting Wrists

Gust Anderson, Willow Creek road, attempted suicide Wednesday by cutting both wrists near his home. A neighbor notified the local police department and an officer took Anderson to the hospital. His condition is not serious.

Maternal deaths in childbirth reached a record low of 44 per 10,000 live births in the United States in 1946.

ON FAIR BOARD—Victor Lemmer, of Ironwood, has been appointed by Gov. Sigler to the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair for a term expiring next June 30. He fills the unexpired term of the late Patrick Kelly of Watersmeet, who died recently. Victor Lemmer is a brother of John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools in Escanaba.

WORK PLANNED BY 4-H CLUBS

Winter Projects Start Following Leaders' Meeting Oct. 21

Work on winter projects for all 4-H Club boys and girls in Delta county will start soon following a leaders' training meeting to be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, the hour and place yet to be decided. It was announced today by Mel Nyquist, county 4-H agent.

Last year there was a record enrollment of more than 600 4-H Club boys and girls in Delta county and the number is expected to exceed that figure this year, Nyquist said.

Boys and girls in the county who do not now have a club planned should look about in their community for a potential leader and then notify the 4-H club agent, who will assist them in organizing their clubs within their schools or community. All adults interested in 4-H club leadership should make reservations for the training meeting and banquet to be held next Tuesday. It is expected that all areas in the county will be represented.

A wide variety of activities will be offered the rural boys and girls who are members of 4-H clubs. For girls there will be clothing projects, including complete costumes, personal accounts, restyling, children's garments, girls room, girls' day, food preparation and baking.

Boys can choose a number of interesting work projects in which to participate: Handicraft, electrical, deer yard study, trapping, tractor maintenance, and 4-H Club boy. For both boys and girls there is participation in conservation, health, Junior leadership and farm safety.

Inspection Needed To Transport Trees

The Michigan department of conservation in cooperation with the department of agriculture advises that in those instances where nursery stock (trees with roots attached) are to be transported, it will be necessary that the trees be inspected prior to moving.

Requests for inspection should be forwarded to the following address prior to the beginning of operations: C. A. Boyer, chief, Bureau of Plant Industry, Dept. of Agriculture, 701 State Office Bldg., Lansing 13, Michigan. This inspection would be to determine whether the trees are infected with diseases which might be transported to other areas.

No inspection is required of cut trees. A bill of sale indicating that the trees were legally obtained should be in possession of individuals transporting cut trees. Such forms are available at the office of the department of conservation and the county agricultural agent's office.

Funds For Scouts

THE other day three men, all employees of a local industry, were discussing the approaching Delta County Community Chest solicitation campaign and one of them spoke up, "Why do they raise money for the Boy Scouts? I have a son in the Scouts and he pays for his uniforms, his camping trips, his Scout books, etc." One of the others quickly joined in, "Yes, and I have a daughter in the Girl Scouts, and she pays for her uniforms and camping trips, too." The third fellow said he didn't know the answer either, but he'd surely find out.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, as well as the Campfire Girls, Salvation Army and Cod Liver Oil Funds all participate in the Community Chest and so the Community Chest directors were asked to explain how public subscription money is used to promote each of these organizations.

It is well that the three men who did not know the answer were interested enough to find out. Too often people look for an excuse to shirk their responsibility in public affairs and they do not really want to know the answers to questions such as that posed by the three industrial workers.

The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls are character building agencies serving youth. The youngsters are taught self-reliance, as well as other virtues of good citizenship. They are encouraged to pay for their own uniforms, their own camping trips and their own Scout supplies, preferably with funds that they earn themselves. In this way, they learn that things that are worth having are also worth working for. We need more of this kind of thinking in America.

But there are phases of the Scout and Campfire programs that cannot and should not be charged to the participants. Since all of the public benefits directly through the better citizenship teachings of the Scouts and Campfire programs, the public should naturally be expected to pay its proportionate share of the load.

This money is used for leadership expenses, administration, transportation, courts of honor, capital outlay at the Scout camps, etc. None of it is used to provide uniforms for the youthful Scouts or Campfire Girls or to pay their expenses at summer camps.

A Brake On Divorce

MICHIGAN'S new interdictory divorce decree law provides a six months waiting period before a divorce will become final, a feature which should serve as a legal restraint against the alarming increase in broken homes. This, of course, was the objective in the interdictory divorce.

The law provides that after a circuit court judge has issued an interdictory divorce decree, neither party may remarry within the six months' period. The divorce instrument, in fact, does not become effective until the end of the six months period. In the interim, there is a chance that the parties, now separated from each other, will decide that it is all a mistake and will reunite the family.

Even if this new law is successful in blocking only a very few divorce actions, it is worthwhile. The present high rate of divorces in Michigan should be of great concern to everyone. One of every three marriages in Michigan is ending in divorce, leaving a wreckage of family life. Undoubtedly this factor is contributing in no small extent to the problem of juvenile delinquency and many other social problems of today.

There may be cases where it is regarded as within the public interest to waive the six months waiting period and in such cases, the circuit judges are empowered to do so. It is to be hoped, however, that the judges do not abuse this privilege but confine such waivers only to the cases of extreme necessity.

GOP Wants Facts

REPUBLICANS in Congress are balking at a presidential request that they pledge early action in January on emergency aid to Europe in exchange for an agreement by the president not to call a special session. The Republicans refuse to be committed in advance in favor of a stop gap payment of more than a half billion dollars to European nations until they get more facts on Europe's needs.

Congressional committees are meeting next month at the president's request to study the administration's emergency aid program. It is well to note that the details of the program still have not been worked out, which explains why the Senate and House foreign affairs and appropriation committees are meeting in mid-November instead of this month. Under the circumstances it would be senseless for the Republican majority to pledge early passage of the emergency aid bill when they still are unaware of the actual facts of Europe's emergency needs or the provisions of the bill.

The Republican leaders have already promised sympathetic examination of the European situation and have given assurance that there will be no inclination to stall. They do want the facts, however, and they do intend to withhold approval until they can study the actual situation.

Obviously there is little to be gained by calling a special session, particularly in view of the fact that the administration itself still is unsettled about the proper course to follow. This is indicated by the fact that the administration program will not be ready for presentation to the House and Senate committees until mid-November. Those committees will need a reasonable time to study the problem which would further delay the matter until the approach of the holiday season. It is apparent that the congressmen would not be in a receptive mood for voting millions to Europe if called to a special session during the holidays.

(Menominee Herald Leader)

Counting a couple hundred kids who went over the fence without tickets, more than 7,000 persons saw the Menominee-Iron Mountain high school football game here on Walton Blesch Field last Saturday night. The crowd was the largest which has ever seen a football contest between two upper peninsula teams. On the same night that the Maroons were trouncing the Mountaineers here, another attendance record was being set for collegiate football in the U. P. by 4,000 on hand at Marquette to see Northern Michigan College of Education tie Michigan Tech. Last Friday night there were 4,000 fans out at Stambaugh to see Stambaugh defeat Iron River. All these contests were night games played under lights.

The great increase in public interest in peninsula football may be attributed in part to fan following of winning teams and general good times, but such a general increase of attendance cannot be mere coincidence and exceeds the increase that could be expected from interest in a championship 11 or plenty of money. The chief reason is night football. Menominee played one late season night game here last year under its new lights. They cost more than $6,000. When Menominee high school's bell rings out another football victory for the Maroons on Nov. 11 the lights will be paid for from game receipts, an expenditure exceeding a decade of spending for football in the days when Menominee played on the Fair Grounds gridiron. Now the fans are talking about another concrete stand on Blesch Field. Sports historians will date high school football here B. L. and A. L., Before Lights and After Lights.

The vending machines will be glad to know that the government plans to retire the steel-zinc wartime pennies.

In football, the bigger you are the harder they fall.

MORE ABOUT

DICTIONARY MOSSBACKS

On previous occasions I have reported the never-never pronunciations which are found in a certain unabridged dictionary which prides itself on "simplicity and accuracy." I have already pointed out such ridiculous entries as "HAHN-gahr" for hangar, "KOE-kuh-in" for cocaine, "TOE-muh-in" for ptomaine and "FRAN-chizz" for franchise, etc.

Here are a few more pronunciations that are never heard in modern American usage:

The noun corsage is given as "KAWR-sidej." (My phonetic spelling, not the dictionary's.) Americans, of course, invariably say kawr-SAHZH.

The noun envelope is listed with the preferred pronunciation "en-VEL-up." This is as out of date as grandmom's bombazine. The correct pronunciation is: EN-vel-ope, ("ON-vel-ope," a pseudo-French pronunciation, is not good usage.)

The word aerial is pronounced "ay-EE-ri-ull." The word is not so pronounced in America. The correct American is: AIR-ee-ull.

The word airplane is not listed by this dictionary at all, despite the fact that it is the only sanctioned American spelling! The only form listed is the Briticized "aeroplane," pronounced "AY-er-oh-plane."

The word questionnaire is given the Frenchified but inaccurate pronunciation "KESS-chun-AIR." (The "KESS" in the first syllable is not a typographical error, amigos, "that certain dictionary" really believes that we Americans do or should pronounce questionnaire that way!)

The word penchant, "a taste or liking for," is given the French pronunciation "pah(n)-SHAH(N)." But Americans always say "PEN-chint."

The obsolescent "toe-MAH-toe" is preferred for the word tomato. The Standard American pronunciation is: tuh-MAY-toe; or tuh-MAY-tuh.

To complete the comedy of errors, the little insect which goes to all the picnics, and which housewives detest, is called (hold on tight—this one will floor you) an "ahnt"! When they read today's column

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Paris, France — An important channel of understanding between Europe and America is the American press. The American newspaper men and women in Europe who write from day to day about European events are a definite part of our representation abroad.

This may be a prejudiced point of view but it seems to me they are fully as important a part of our representation as the American diplomatic corps. And in some places they rate a lot higher.

Their chief job is to report from day to day for American readers. But for many Europeans the American reporter is a kind of outpost representing a press that has as its goal objectivity and freedom of expression in the news columns. It often falls far short of that goal but the fact remains that it is the goal.

—AP MAN HAS TOUGH TIME—
Larry Allen, correspondent for the Associated Press in Warsaw, is an example. For months the Polish government conducted a vicious personal campaign against him in the Polish press and on the radio.

The Communist controlled government was furious because Allen was reporting the facts as he saw them. But Allen stuck it out. He is still in Warsaw reporting the facts as he sees them and the great majority of the Polish people know it.

As an American citizen Allen tries to steer clear of the tangle of political prejudices that becloud everything in Poland. If he were a Pole this would be difficult or impossible, a fact which points up the importance of sending trained American reporters to Europe.

Reporters for the press associations work under great pressure, particularly when a big story is breaking. One of the ablest in the business over here is Edward Murray, head of the United Press bureau in Rome. When Trieste was in the news recently, as the territorial provisions of the peace treaty took effect, Murray worked at least 14 hours a day at top speed.

Part of the pressure is for the kind of story which will make sensational headlines. This pressure is responsible for one of the weaknesses of American reporting out of Europe. Everything tends to get told in terms of bing-bing-bing-bing, the cowboys are coming to save the heroine from the bandits.

Correspondents who do not have to work under that kind of pressure do a more mature job of reporting. They are able to tell American readers what happens before the shooting begins if it does finally begin.

—FODOR KNOWS BALKANS—
In Greece and the Near East such reporters as Philip Potter of the Baltimore Sun and George Polk of the Columbia Broadcasting System send out day-to-day reports that place developing events in a larger frame of understanding. This same type of reporting comes from M. W. Fodor of the Washington Post who has for so long made the Balkans his beat.

Papers such as the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Christian Science Monitor and the Chicago Daily News send out American correspondents who have only one assignment—to get the news. It is not an easy assignment. The correspondent must constantly buck the myriad regulations which require an official permit, duly stamped and taxed, to sneeze.

Traveling about Europe means visas and exit visas. It means difficult reservations and long and tiresome waiting for planes that are delayed or canceled. It means an infinity of customs inspection and money control, most of which is absurdly futile since the big operators seem always to circumvent the regulations.

Yet in spite of all this the correspondent manages to learn a great deal about what is going on. A good example is the reporting Harold Callender has done out of Paris for the New York Times on the 16-nation conference that formulated the Marshall plan. Again and again Callender broke through the official silence which was mistakenly imposed to get the news.

The press association reporter is likely to be a salesman for his service in the country in which he is stationed as well as a reporter. This can mean a handicap in getting out an objective news report which other reporters do not have.

Six days a week here in Paris the New York Herald Tribune publishes a newspaper that contains more real news than all the Paris papers rolled into one and with a big margin to spare. It is a first-rate American newspaper. On its editorial page it reprints editorials not merely from the parent New York edition, but from papers of varying shades of opinion throughout America.

That may be one reason why the Paris Herald is a "must" for government officials not merely in France but throughout Europe. They can get an idea of American opinion. And they can also see how American newspapers—or most of them—print the news without regard to opinion. On the news side, the headline for Molotov is as big as it is for Marshall.

I feel sure that the editors of "that certain dictionary" will have ahnts in their pants.

If you are planning a spelling bee, you will find Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-5, very helpful. It contains a list of nearly 200 hard-to-spell words.

To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, c/o Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, N. Y.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

COUNTY BOARD —There are few citizens of Delta county who pay more than passing attention to their county board of supervisors, or to the problems they must cope with. The same can be written of the people in any county in Michigan.

Too many of the citizenry are critical without being understanding. They expect a perfection that has never been evident in any government legislative body. And that is exactly what your county board of supervisors is—a legislative group. But its power and authority has been so hedged in by state law that it has now come to mean little more than an appropriative organization.

AUTHORITY LIMITED—State statute provides, for instance, that each county shall have a certain number of elective officers and that the county shall raise sufficient tax revenue to pay the salaries of elected officials and maintain their departments.

If the conduct of the offices is not what the board desires it can do little about it except through its control of the purse strings. For example: A year ago the county board sought to have the Delta county treasurer spend more time in his office. A committee returned with a report that the board was powerless to enforce such control over the treasurer; who is elected by the people and responsible only to the people for the conduct of his office. The only way that the elected county officer could be removed was by the citizenry circulating a recall petition. The county board of supervisors could do nothing more and the matter was dropped for the time being.

SALARY MATTERS —Delta county pays its treasurer $2,500 a year, which is only $400 more than it offers to pay full-time deputy treasurer. The treasurer requested a salary of $3,250 for 1948 and the request was disallowed.

MATTER OF RECORD —All of the above is a matter of record and can be found in the minutes of the Delta county board of supervisors on file in the clerk's office in the court house in Escanaba.

Yet for more than a year the matter has received little more than passing attention from the people of the county when it was reported in the newspapers.

There are those who may be critical of the action of the county board in attempting to correct the problem. There may be others who will believe the county board has done the right thing. Whatever the opinions or feelings in the matter, citizens have neither publicly approved nor criticized the actions the board has taken.

Certainly this can only be interpreted as meaning that the citizens and taxpayers of the county are disinterested. They do not care how the office of the county treasurer is operated, whether the treasurer is on duty, or whether he has a legally appointed deputy on duty when he is away.

AND OF CONCERN —It is unfortunate that in this controversy the treasurer and the supervisors must expose themselves to possible criticism. What could be no more than a personnel problem in private business must in public business be fully revealed and discussed by the citizens. In private business the company officials would take what steps they thought necessary. In public business, and particularly in county government, the supervisors can direct attention but they cannot solve the problem. They lack that authority.

This is the first of two articles presented in the interest of better county government. The second, tomorrow, will discuss the difficulties between the county board of supervisors and the Office of Veterans' Affairs.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — For weeks the most important anti-trust suit in the country has been jockeyed back and forth between the highest-powered array of legal talent Wall Street can muster and the anti-trust division of the justice department. Issue at stake has been twofold:

1. Whether the big investment bankers can button up stock and bond flotations among their own favorites without letting outside bankers come in on the gravy.

2. Whether two big Wall Street firms, formerly run by two members of the Truman cabinet (Secretary of Commerce Harriman and Secretary of Defense Forrestal) could pull enough weight to call off the anti-trust action.

Yesterday the cream of Wall Street's legal brains came down to Washington for another and perhaps final conference. They were:

John Foster Dulles' firm of Sullivan and Cromwell, representing Blyth and Co., First Boston Corp., Lehman Brothers and Goldman Sachs & Co.

John W. Davis' firm of Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Sunderland and Kiendl representing J. P. Morgan and Co., Harriman Ripley and Co., and Smith, Barney & Co.

John J. McCloy's firm of Cravath Swaine and Moore representing Kuhn, Loeb and Co.

John Cahill's firm of Wright, Gordon, Zachry, Parlin and Cahill, representing Dillon, Read and Co.

Cahill, former U. S. district attorney in New York and onetime new dealer, has taken the lead among the defense attorneys, and for a time it looked as if he had succeeded in sidetracking the case.

Actually the justice department began working on the case two years ago and was all set for prosecution last February. For months a grand jury has been sitting, and courthouse rumor had it that jurors were all set to bring a criminal indictment.

—MYSTERIOUS SLOWDOWN—

Last spring, however, Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge, who had worked up the case, resigned. Succeeding him in charge of anti-trust came John Sonnett, aide to Secretary Forrestal during the war and former assistant to John Cahill, now defending the Forrestal banking firm.

Suddenly prosecution of the Wall Street moguls was held up. For weeks it dragged along. Nothing happened. Sonnett is an A-1 lawyer, did a great job when it came to stopping John L. Lewis. But when it came to going after Wall Street and the old Forrestal banking firm, Sonnett's stock reply was: "I'm studying the case."

Finally, Wall Street passed out word that a compromise was in the works, that the justice department would call off the case in favor of a consent decree.

At this point, however, the Wall Streeters made a serious error. They pulled a re-financing deal for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, and in doing so followed their usual practice of relegating local Ohio bankers to a third-rate cut of the financial pie. This brought storms of protest from the Midwest. Also it brought the whole business before President Truman himself.

Mr. Truman has had a long and consistent record, both in the Senate and White House for enforcing the anti-trust laws. So what the Wall Street lawyers didn't know, when they negotiated with the anti-trust division yesterday, was that President Truman had sent word over to the justice department intimating that he wanted some action.

It now looks, therefore, as though the anti-trust case against the big investment houses—including the former firms of two cabinet members—will go forward about the end of this month.

—FRIENDSHIP TRAIN—

Reader reactions to the idea of a "Friendship Train" to collect food for Europe: L. R. M., Detroit—"Why not invite half a dozen Frenchmen to accompany the train from all walks of life so the food could be presented to the common people of France as a gift from the common people of America?" . . . M. D. M., Cleveland—"Let's attach the name and address of each American donor to the sack of flour or wheat so the recipients in Europe will know this is a bona fide gift from an American family." . . . M. G., Lake Charles, La.—"Count on the First Christian church here for many bags of rice." . . . H. C. R., Ontario, Ore.—"The Lions club would like to help sponsor a Friendship Train from the Northwest." . . . T. G., Enid, Okla.—"We are staging airplane-escorted truck caravan across Oklahoma grain belt hauling donated grain. Under auspices of Friends Service committee, Mennonites, Church World Service, Oklahoma has loaded eleven railcars relief wheat and expecting thirty more. Kansas collecting 60 to 80 railcars." . . . L. B., Paterson, N. J.—"Why not induce post office to eliminate 14 cents per pound mailing rates on food packages to Europe as they did during the war for our soldiers?" . . . J. K., Elvira, Ohio—"Junior Chamber of Commerce would like to help sponsor Friendship Train." . . . Washington, D. C.—"Suggest French government show documentary film of American citizens donating food to Friendship Train."

A statistician says three times more single men than married men are arrested. At last "you're not going out tonight" is beginning to show results.

The next thing we know they'll expect the gals to wear the old-fashioned high laced shoes. And their shins will find them out.

GODFREY GIVES RUARK A LIFT

Jack Of All Trades Has Made Fortune In Radio

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—Once a year, when the old lassitude sets in, I don't take sulphur and molasses. I go and set and jaw with Master Arthur Godfrey.

On the off chance that there is anybody around who has never heard of Arthur, I will say simply that he invented radio. Or at least, he invented a heavy portion of what you hear today.

In his spare time he was in the navy and in the Coast Guard. He drove a hack, was stickman in a gambling joint, clerked in assorted fleabags, sold cemetery lots, acted on the stage, had a turn at vaudeville, and flew airplanes.

Currently he is a gentleman farmer—well, he's a farmer, anyhow. He is making for this year's effort a tidy little $550,000, which even without the last zero is mid-din' money for a guy who used to fetch $5 a program peddling birdseed in Baltimore.

The redhead owns Columbia Broadcasting, or that is the impression I get, because after Arthur takes his cut each year there can't be much left for President William Paley. Mr. Godfrey still peddles his tonsils from cockerow to lunch, both local and network. He is still running a network thing called "Talent Scout" on Mondays—a separate deal which operated a year before the redhead graciously condescended to accept a sponsor.

He's An "Artist"

Now and again he will knock off a movie short, as he once allowed someone to shoot him on to the Broadway stage. He has just made a record called "The Too Fat Polka," which will make him another mint. This, however, is not the point.

"I have always wished to be an artist," says Mr. Godfrey. "I am now an artist."

My man Godfrey has leaped more hurdles in his striped, spotted and checkered career than a practicing steeplechaser. He might have been a bum, a gunman, a bookmaker or a thief, because his early days were about as rough as early days can be. He is, I think, about the best illustration around of working Americana, which will allow a man to be as good as he wishes, with a little luck and determination tossed in.

Among other things, Godfrey is indestructible. He survived an automobile accident in which he collected 27 fractures in his mid-hips, both hips, fractured his skull, and punched large holes in both his heart and lungs. Mr. Godfrey, with his customary obstinacy, refused to die, because he was just beginning to get rich and he wanted to see what it felt like.

Mr. Godfrey today is a reserve lieutenant commander in the navy. This pleases him, too, because he put in a lot of time as an enlisted man in both navy and Coast Guard. I forgot to mention earlier that he once held one of the boxing championships of the Mediterranean fleet, in the 20s.

In Radio Since 1929

Mr. Godfrey got his start in radio in 1929 while he was a chief radioman in the C. G. He developed a splendid talent for holding a bibulous governor in front of a microphone, and in gratitude the governor got him sprung from the service so he could pursue the dollar in civvies.

The pursuit started with the birdseed program, in which he was billed as "Red Godfrey, the Warbling Banjoist." Too many letters came in addressed to "The Wobbling Banjoist," and Arthur became an announcer. He felt it was a step down.

Godfrey is the inventor of the currently popular stunt of kidding sponsors. Arthur was driving sponsors nuts before Henry Morgan unwisdomed himself. Arthur invented the business of my money is still all by himself in the field. He popularized the scriptless show; the spontaneous question—answer stuff.

I wish I had twice as much space to run on, because every-time I bump into the guy I found out new things about him.

Such as the fact that the big tramp reads little but physics and tomes on meteorology, for fun, I suppose that's what happens to people who make half a million claims a year.

Obituary

ANTON L. SEIDL

Funeral services for Anton L. Seidl, 70, a resident of Wells for 40 years, who died Wednesday morning, will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Patrick's church, of which he was a member. Burial will be made in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

The body will be in state at the Allo Funeral home Friday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

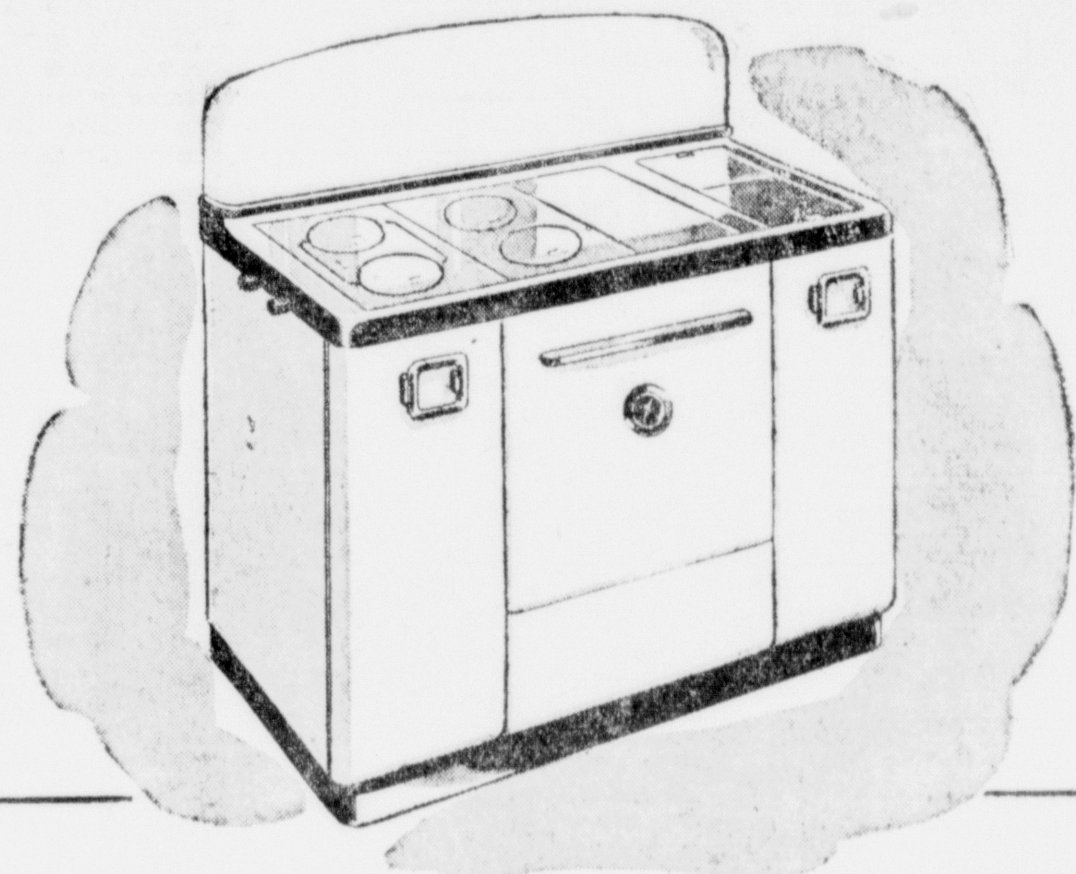

Mr. Seidl, who was born in Austria, May 30, 1877, came to the United States as a young man, and he was a boilermaker and machinist for the E. & L. S. until his retirement. His survivors include four children, 11 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

St. Ann Festival
On November 12
St. Ann's parish will hold its annual fall festival Wednesday, November 12, it was announced today, at St. Joseph's parish hall. A dessert bridge, which will begin at 1:30 o'clock, and a game party, which is to start at 8 o'clock in the evening, will be the feature events of the festival program. Mrs. Octave Perron is chairman of the bridge party and is in charge of the sale of tickets. Proceeds of the festival, which is open to the public, are for St. Ann's church building fund.

Reading Trends Of Day Told By Nancy B. Thomas

"Trends in Reading" was selected as the subject of an interesting talk given by Mrs. Nancy Thomas at the meeting of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club, held Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel.

"Reading can be likened to fashion," Mrs. Thomas said. "There can be a great demand for certain books or types of books for a time, then they are dropped and the reader goes on to something else." At the present time, the most "stylish" book is historical fiction; this is due probably to the fact that the public prefers not to dwell on the late World War for their fiction. "The Money Man" by Costain heads the book list at the present time, Mrs. Thomas said.

"I remember distinctly" by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Allan Lewis, is a popular book at this time. This contains pictures taken from old magazines and scenes from early day movies. Another popular group is a set of books published by Look Magazine. All of these, Mrs. Thomas told her listeners, are out-growths of the WPA guides published several years ago. A surprising amount of good material was gathered and put together by people who had no experience or training as writers. The WPA guide has started a certain style in books and writing which has gone on steadily ever since; they are good reading and there have been many second printings.

John Gunther, in his book "Inside USA," expresses his opinions on politics very strongly, but his book is not unkind. This is the big difference between the books which have been published since the recent World War and those which were published after the first World War.

Writers who have a message choose the novel as the means to do this rather than an article or some other type of literature. Many present day writers have selected the novel in an attempt to educate the public to right thinking on racial questions and the problems of the minority groups. Recent style trends in literature also have been the consideration of the insane and the psychopathic, as well as the alcoholic. "The Lost Week-End" was one of the most successful of these books. None of them are pleasant reading but they are written with a purpose. A factor of great weight also, is that when one writer makes a great deal of money on a book, that book is immediately followed by others of the same type with the hope that their authors will profit financially.

Style Trends In Writing
A style trend which followed the war was the great number of stories and books written by reporters and journalists, although the enthusiasm for that type of literature is on the wane. Mrs. Thomas said. Present-day journalists are writing a great many books dispensing advice to the nations of the world; the United Nations are also the recipient of a lot of advice on what the journalists believe should be done about world affairs. Although many of these books make interesting and thought-provoking reading, the general public does not as a rule, read them. Books on Russia, which is such a vital issue at the present time, are passed over. History is moving so fast that the public depends on the press, the radio and the weekly magazines for a picture of what is happening.

Books that people can and do read, are those which are written about the characteristics and cultures of the people living in different parts of the world. People are also reading more of what are classed as inspirational books than they did before the war.

Another after effect of the war is the great number of books which have been published on home building, decorating, and another trend in literature which is very popular at this time is the great number of books which are written on various hobbies.

Hollywood Influence
The radio and the movies are exerting an influence on present day literature. Some writers write with one eye on Hollywood—their books are cheapened to a certain extent because their thinking is that Hollywood will provide the setting and they will furnish the plot. This does away with the fine detail of writing that has been so great in the past.

Although the price of books has increased, due to the increase in the cost of labor, paper and distribution, there are a great many books being bought now regardless of price, Mrs. Thomas said in conclusion.

Members in charge of the evening's program were Julia Parsons, Helen Elaine Stenson, Mrs. Louise Gray and Lottie Frech.

Dr. Stensvaag Is Guest Speaker at Sunday Services

Dr. John Stensvaag, professor of Old Testament theology at Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis, and president of the Lutheran League Federation of the Lutheran Free church, will be guest speaker at Immanuel Lutheran church at the Sunday morning service at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. L. R. Lund, pastor, announced today.

Dr. Stensvaag also will preach a sermon at Trinity Lutheran church in Stonington Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The educator, who is an able speaker, is widely known for his addresses at Bible camps, college assemblies and religious conferences. The public is invited to both of the Sunday services.

Legion Auxiliary Dinner
The annual membership dinner of Cloverland Unit No. 82, American Legion Auxiliary, served recently at the club rooms was well attended. A bazaar was held in connection with the dinner meeting.

A quota of 217 members was set for the new year and chairmen of various committees presented their annual reports.

Several new members were introduced, as well as Mrs. Marion Whitmarsh, of Stephenson, a former member of the unit, who was a guest. In the card games held during the social, Mrs. Ruby Shiner was high in bridge, Mrs. Marie Bryson, high in pinocle, and Mrs. Rose Goodreau, high in five hundred. Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Mrs. Lillian Greis and her committee of officers.

Preliminary plans for the 5th zone meeting to be held here November 1 and 2 were announced. The date of the November meeting of the unit, which will be a kitchen shower for the new club rooms will be announced later. Members are asked to call an officer for the list of articles needed.

Rebekah Party Friday
A grocery party, sponsored by Phoebe Rebekah lodge, will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall, Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

Dr. John Towey Speaker At TB District Meeting

Medical directors of the Northern Peninsula's four tuberculosis sanatoriums will participate in a TB panel discussion at the banquet session of the Upper Peninsula Tuberculosis Conference tomorrow at the Hotel Northland in Marquette. The banquet meeting will end the first day of a two-day conference of Upper Peninsula affiliates of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, Regional Joint Staff Conference of State Vocational Rehabilitation and in-sanatorium patient services departments.

Doctors J. W. Towey, superintendent and medical director of Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers, C. R. Smith, medical superintendent of Copper Country Sanatorium at Houghton, J. R. Acecks, medical superintendent of Morgan Heights Sanatorium at Marquette, Salvatore Lojaciono, medical director of TB Division, Grand View Hospital at Ironwood, and C. J. Stringer, medical director of Ingham Sanatorium at Lansing will take part in the banquet panel.

The tuberculosis experts will review streptomycin, surgery, internal medicine and phases of rehabilitation as they concern the treatment and care of TB patients.

Preceding the joint banquet meeting will be conferences of Patient Services groups and local tuberculosis associations.

POWER SUPPLY SHORT IN U. S.

Lines May Be Strained To Limit Before Christmas

(By The Associated Press) The nation's power lines may be strained to the limit by Christmas. They are already taut under unprecedented, and in some sections unexpected, demands for electricity.

A nation-wide survey by the Associated Press shows that in some sections plans are being made already to:

1. Ask householders "voluntarily" to rearrange operation schedules to space out demands on generating equipment. This might mean changes in working hours and conditions, even a return to the three-shift system of wartime to use power during the hours of least demand.
2. Cut off "dump power" supplied some industries at lower rates with provision to curtail or cut off power when regular consumers' demands tax capacity.
3. Deny power to new industrial applicants until additional generating capacity can be installed.
4. The utility companies disagree with recent predictions in some quarters of a return to wartime "brownouts" on a wide scale, but they admit that in a number of sections "reserves are too low for comfort."

And they have their fingers crossed against any breakdowns in the pre-Christmas period when the nation normally has its peak load, due to long nights, blaring store and home lights, and overtime in plants filling last-minute shipment demands.

Avowed shortages already exist in Arizona, Florida and northern California. Dallas and Los Angeles have surplus power.

In between these extremes, most sections report generating capacity will be equal to demand—if there is no general breakdown of equipment, no prolonged drought, no fuel shortages, no "terrific production" by industry.

In most sections, the survey shows, utilities plan to increase capacity. Slow progress so far can be traced to failure of equipment manufacturers to fill orders and to delays in construction programs, due to materials shortages.

By 1951 privately-owned companies expect to add 13,500,000 kilowatt generator capacity to the present 50,303,660 kilowatts. Other producers expect to add 3,000,000 kilowatts capacity.

But it's the coming winter that has power plant executives looking for rain clouds in the fall skies, studying coal and oil production figures, and poring over the ever-mounting demand curve of their own industry.

Palate Tempters

Several hotels in London keep live trout in an underground building, where a stream of fresh water constantly flows through the tanks. The trout are in regular demand by customers who choose their fish before they are cooked.

Cloves are dried, unopened flower buds.

Chatham

Chatham Women's Guild
Chatham, Mich.—The Chatham Women's Guild met at the home of Mrs. Jacob Harsila of Sundell Wednesday afternoon October 15. Mrs. Harsila and her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Mattson were hostesses.

Rock River P. T. A.
The second meeting of the Rock River P. T. A. will be held at the high school Thursday evening, October 16. A question box will be prepared before the meeting. Members are asked to write out questions they wish discussed at the meeting. Questions must pertain to the school. They need not be signed. Place your question in the box as soon as possible before the meeting or mail it to Miss Hella Karpinen now. The questions will be selected and discussed in a panel composed of one father, one mother, one grade school teacher, one high school teacher, and one student from the high school. There will also be a roll call of parents according to classes from the kindergarten to the twelfth grade to see which grade is the best represented by parents bringing a new member. Invite your neighbors now! A movie will conclude the program. Lunch will be served.

Teachers' Club
The Rock River Teachers' Club will meet Tuesday evening October 28 in the Eben school. Mrs. Rose Lemm, Mrs. Leila Barber, Alfred Michelson, and Miss Ione Brown will be in charge of the program and lunch.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. George Kallio visited at 16 Mile Lake Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barber visited Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Villamur and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Thompson in Escanaba Sunday.

The children of the Chatham School will have individual pictures taken Thursday Oct. 16, when a photographer will call at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christopherson and children, Gunile and Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. George Lelvis and daughter Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cauchon, and Mrs. Paul Cayer and son Dan of Trenary spent Sunday at the Dan Cayer cabin at Long Lake.

working at the Joseph Brisson sawmill in Chatham Tuesday.

Carl Nelson was a patient at St. Luke's hospital a few days this week.

Gabe Heldmann of Munising visited in Chatham Tuesday.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CITY TO PLAN FOR TOMORROW

Will Cooperate With State Experts In Planning

Gladstone will participate in a series of meetings now being arranged with the idea of community betterment the goal.

The subject for the round tables will be "Our Community Tomorrow" and experts from Michigan University, Michigan State College and Michigan College of Mining and Technology will come to Gladstone to meet with local leaders and lay out a detailed plan for community development.

Preliminary arrangements were made by Supt. Wallace Cameron in conferring with Charles Folio of the University Extension Division and Robert Sharer of the Department of Public Instruction. The two men are now arranging to have such meetings held in four places in the Upper Peninsula.

There are three meetings in all, the first at which the groundwork is laid and two others, each 60 days apart.

It is likely that the entire Bay de Noc area would be considered in the planning and that Gladstone and Escanaba would cooperate in the project.

Subjects considered in the planning include economics, rural sociology, architecture and finance.

City Briefs

Allegan Man Chosen As Secretary Of C-C

Joseph VanArnum of Allegan has been selected from among the list of applicants as secretary-manager of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. VanArnum is 53 and is a former secretary-manager of the Allegan Chamber of Commerce, a position he resigned some time ago.

Briefly Told

Rev. Dale Cryderman, Campus Counselor of the Spring Arbor Junior College, Spring Arbor, Mich., will be the principal speaker at the Young People's district rally, which is being held at the Free Methodist church this weekend beginning on Thursday and ending on Sunday evening.

He will bring a male quartette with him that will sing at all the services and on Sunday morning they will sing a special number known as the "Stone Song," and will act it out as they sing.

The services for each evening will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Novena Service—Novena services are to be conducted in All Saints' Catholic church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Correction—Mrs. John Rossi, Watersmeet, who is the mother of a baby boy, born Monday at St. Francis hospital, is the former Lorraine Wickert of Kipling, not Beatrice Bink, as stated in yesterday's Press. The child has been named Patrick Thomas.

Forester Meeting—A regular meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in All Saints parish hall. Mrs. Roy Terrian and Mrs. Robert Moore are to be hostesses.

Maccabees—A meeting of the Lady Maccabees will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Eagle's hall. A social hour will follow the business session, and lunch will be served. Each member may bring a guest.

Girl Scout Troop Names New Staff

Carol Ann Mackie was chosen as president of Girl Scout Troop 4 at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in Memorial Methodist church.

Other officers include Mary Lynn Paterson, vice president; Nancy Kjellberg secretary; Noreen Sebeck treasurer and Mary Jo Bolger scribe.

Three patrols were formed. They are the Five Dwarfs with Patsy Ward as leader, the Golden Banner with Nan Paterson leader and Black Beavers with Mary Alice Cameron as leader.

Mrs. O. S. Hult is troop leader and is being assisted by Mrs. Bart Paterson. The troop will meet regularly Tuesday afternoons at 3:45 o'clock in the basement of the Methodist church.

Social

Honored Mrs. Mathilde LaChapelle, Escanaba, Mich., who celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary on Tuesday, October 14, was honored at an evening party on Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Laura Jacobson, 624 Delta avenue, City. A delicious dinner was served and cards were played with high honors going to Mr. Ed. Hubert, and second to Mrs. Laura Jacobson. A beautifully decorated birthday cake centered the table. The honored guest received many nice gifts.

WCOF JUBILEE IS OBSERVED

Foresters Have Been Active Here For Fifty Years

Sacred Heart Court, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, observed the 50th anniversary of its founding Tuesday and the observance was highly successful and well attended.

The court was organized here fifty years ago at a time when the Rev. Fr. F. Neumaier was pastor of All Saints church. Mrs. Mary Kelly of Escanaba aided in the organization. Mrs. Emma Geraldine, mother of Mrs. Charles Bartlett and Mrs. B. R. Micks is the only surviving charter member because of illness was unable to attend. Mrs. Kelly who was to have been a guest at the banquet also was unable to attend because of the death of a relative.

Charter members of the local court were Mary Bailey, Anna LaComb, Celia Hendergan, Catherine McDonald, Grace Rogers, Marie Michau, Mary O'Connell, Nellie LaBlanc, Flora Houle, Georgiana Pigott, Mary LaRoche, Mary McCarthy, Mary Burroughs, Mary Reagan, Mary Martin, Sarah McDonough, Catherine Hetrick, Elizabeth Freeborn, Virginia Cabilot, Mary Gleason, Sophia Tar-diff, Emma Gerdau, Odile Dou-tre, Julia Simitt, Dina Deblotz, Rose Poisson, Philomena Mar-tin.

The observance started with celebration of a high mass in the morning by the Rev. Fr. Matt La-Violette, pastor of All Saints.

In the evening there was a turkey banquet served by the church guild.

Mrs. Mabel Lindemyer, Chicago, high treasurer of the national organization, and Miss Regina Pia-secki, Green Bay, former field representative for this district, were honored at the dinner.

Modernization Of Soo Line Hits Full Stride

A program of modernization of equipment and facilities on the Soo Line has hit full stride with the delivery this week of the first of a new fleet of streamlined Diesel-electric locomotives, it was announced today by H. C. Grout, president of the Soo Line. In all, eighteen new freight-hauling Diesel-electric locomotives are on order.

The new locomotives, of the very latest type, will be used to improve freight service on the Soo Line in the Minnesota and North Dakota area and on the line to Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. Grout said. He predicted that the extra power offered by this new equipment may help make possible a general speed-up of freight schedules.

Ten of the new locomotives consist of two separate locomotive units, each capable of generating 1500 horsepower. The units will most often be used in pairs, providing a total of 3000 horsepower per train. Eight of the new locomotives will be 1500 horsepower road-switchers for use on the "Wheat Line" and other branch lines, hauling grain and other products to the head of the lakes.

Other recent improvements on the Soo Line include a number of completely remodelled sleeping cars and coaches with improved feather-soft seats of the newest design, and with completely new interior decorating and facilities.

Congratulatory messages were received from various courts in the area and from former members of the local court who have moved from Gladstone.

Following the after dinner program a social evening of cards was enjoyed.

Expect Record Crowd At 'Stique-Soo Game

Manistique, Oct. 16 — Records for attendance at local sports events are due to be shattered Friday evening when the Manistique Emeralds meet the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils at Hall stadium in the final game of the season here.

Large blocks of tickets have already been purchased and it is now regarded practically certain that the crowd will reach the 3,000 mark.

Although the game itself is deserving of the season's biggest crowd, the presence of Miss Rosemary Schwebbs, premier drum majorette of the country, and the appearance of both the Manistique high school and the Sault Ste. Marie bands give assurance it will be one of the most colorful attractions ever seen here.

Athletic Director William Cook offers a hint to those who wish to secure the most advantageous parking for their cars. He suggests that these motorists attend the reserve game between Gladstone and Manistique in the afternoon and leave their cars until evening, when on showing their evening ticket, they may return to their cars and see the game from there. The gates will be open in the afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

Tickets for the big game are still available at the following places: Manistique: Schusters Food Mart, Christy's Bar, Hackenbruch's Barber shop, Tavern Drug store, Ekberg's Tavern. Members of the Elks Lodge also have tickets to sell. Tickets for adults will be at the regular admission price, 50 cents, up to 6 Friday evening, after that the price will be 75 cents.

Branch Rickey Shows Interest In Pro Football

New York, Oct. 16 (AP) — The football Giants, who need good pitchers as much as their baseball namesakes—and can't hit home runs either—are moaning over the reluctance of other clubs to trade with them. . . . "Every time I mention a player, the other team decides he must be pretty good after all," complains prexy Jack Mara. . . . And spherical Steve Owen adds: "Some day we'll complete a pass and fool somebody."

Davenport, Iowa, football fans have chartered two air liners to take Coach "Moon" Mullins and his St. Ambrose college squad to the Illinois-Minnesota game Saturday. . . . And when they return those same fans likely will remark: "Now you've seen it, let's see you do it."

John Jacobs, Oklahoma U. track coach, says cross country team will work on pass defense all this week. . . . although his squad beat the Oklahoma Aggies last week, Jacobs protested: "Johnny Teakel of the Aggies passed all my boys. Looks like we need more work in that department."

Although Bill Cox denies that he plans to sell his football Dodgers to Branch Rickey, Bert Bell reveals that Branch has shown interest in pro football ever since he was with the Cardinals. Some years ago Rickey inquired about buying the Philly Eagles from Bert and Bell's understanding then was that Branch also was figuring on buying the Phillies. . . . Trainer Jimmy Jones is planning to ship Armed to Hialeah for his sixth winter and a shot at a third straight Widener Handicap victory. One more and they'll be pointing him out as Miami's oldest citizen. . . . Washington and Lee, which popped up with the No. 1 football oddity last year when Bill Chipley wandered into the wrong huddle on a muddy day, is bidding for the same doubtful honor as the result of last week's Georgia-Washington game. . . . As the result of a mix-up of signals, Center Joe McCutcheon snapped the ball straight up in the air and GW's Carl Butkus "intercepted" it for a touchdown.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

OFF THE CUFF: The largest crowd to assemble in the Copper Country since the mine strike of 1913 saw the Detroit Tiger barnstormers beat South Range, Northern Wisconsin-Michigan Baseball league champion, at South Range this week. . . . The score was 11-4. . . . As Dizzy Trout promised while in Escanaba hunting partridge earlier this month, his gang put on a good show. . . . But Diz outdid himself. . . . He not only took a turn on the mound, but he smacked out two homers. . . . At present, Trout is touring the state with Harry Heilman. . . . He said he'd be back in Escanaba for deer hunting season.

New uniforms for the Escanaba Hawks hockey team have arrived. Larry Pratt, member of Escanaba's three-man hockey committee, reports. . . . The Hawks' first appearance this coming season promises to be a splash of color. . . . New equipment includes sweaters, pants, socks, winter underwear, shin and shoulder pads and a complete new goalie outfit.

Rod Beauchamp, Joe Belanger and Pratt, who form the Escanaba hockey committee, are solidly behind the proposed amateur hockey league composed of teams representing Escanaba, Gladstone, Newberry and Marquette. . . . Bob Grabowski will manage the team again this season.

St. Joe didn't do too badly in the statistical department in the recent Norway game. . . . The Trojans' net yardage gained was 155, compared with 203 for the Vikings, and they had seven first downs to nine for the visitors. . . . It was their best showing to date. . . . But they plan to exceed that when they meet Crystal Falls here this Saturday afternoon.

Note to Frank Hartman, Gladstone, former Northern Michigan college athlete: It does seem incredible that Norway had 100 frosh out for football this fall. . . . But apparently it's true. . . . Our attorney for a statement to that effect in a recent column is Curtiss Oberthaler, regular Norway Viking fullback. . . . Oberthaler and big Jim Devine, Norway tackle, were sitting out the St. Joe game as spotters in the press box. . . . Both were injured in the Iron Mountain-Norway game two weeks ago and may be out the rest of the season. . . . Two complete all-frosh Norway elevens were on the field, one going off and one coming on, just as the game ended. . . . That was what prompted Oberthaler's remark about the frosh turnout.

ROOKIE WING GETS 2 GOALS

Detroit Staves Off Max Bentley's Late Rally

Detroit, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, getting a jump on the rest of the field under their new coach, Tommy Ivan, took a get-away lead in the National Hockey League today after turning back the Chicago Black Hawks 4 to 2 in the opening game of the season.

Neither club stamped itself as dangerous in the NHL title race off its initial performance, which was ragged and slow as well as dotted with 11 penalties, three of them against Adam Brown, the Chicago left winger who once played for Detroit.

Detroit's smallest opening game crowd in years—10,883 fans—suffered through a scoreless and lifeless first period before the Red Wings scored three times in the second stanza and then staved off a two-goal burst by Max Bentley to win handily.

Half the game's six goals came against short-handed defense as penalties played a part in two of Detroit's scores and one of Bentley's.

Jim McFadden, rookie Detroit left winger, knocked in the season's first goal at the outset of the second period with Dick Butler of the Hawks serving time and McFadden and Jim Conacher counted goals 24 seconds apart with both clubs at full strength before the second period was over.

Bentley's 20-foot back hander broke Harry Lumley's shutout midway through the final stanza and Bentley did it again with Pete Horeck serving a charging penalty six minutes before the game ended.

That cut the Red Wing lead to 3-2 but with Brown off the ice for elbowing it was quickly restored to its final 4-2 status on the first Detroit goal by Armand (Bep) Guidolin, who came in the Wings' lineup this week from the Boston Bruins in exchange for Billy Taylor.

Only casualty of the lid-lifter was Defenseman Doug McCaig of the Red Wings, who had eight stitches taken in a cut over his left eye after Doug Bentley's shot caromed off McCaig's own stick and struck him in the face.

Detroit played the lid-lifter without the services of Roy Conacher who still hasn't come to salary terms, and Eddie Bruneteau who hasn't been able to practice for three days because of a heavy cold.

Detroit hits the road Saturday to meet Toronto in the first half of a weekend series that is renewed here Sunday.

Engine Exhaust Gas May Prevent Fires

Washington, —Engine exhaust gases are being successfully used on two airplanes to prevent fires, the Department of the Navy revealed today. These gases, which contain too little oxygen to support combustion, are used in the vacant spaces inside and around fuel tanks.

Before the exhaust gases enter the fuel tanks, they are cooled from around 900 degrees Fahrenheit to about 70 degrees. Then they go to a pressure relief valve which prevents too high a pressure being built up, as might happen in a long climb. A check-valve prevents back-flow of gases.

Original research on this new fire-prevention system, which has an advantage over the ordinary carbon dioxide equipment because of its lighter weight, was begun in 1943, on invitation of the Navy, by the Curtiss-Wright research department and the National Defense Research Council.

Munising Eleven Host To Newberry Saturday

MUNISING—One of the head-line events of the 1947 football season—as far as Munising is concerned—will take place on the city playgrounds here Saturday afternoon when Newberry high school's Indians and Papooses trundle over here for a set of games with Mather high school's Mustangs and Colts.

The underlings will start their fracas at 12:45, and the first-line elevens will put on their show at 2.

The Indians grabbed a game from the Mather clan in the season's curtain raiser, Sept. 6, by a 19 to 13 score, and since then Munising has gone on to win from Marquette and Stephenson, tie Gladstone and lose to Manistique and Negaunee. This weekend's game will be the semi-final on the Munising schedule. Next Saturday the Orange and Black will meet St. Joe in Escanaba for another try at the "Little Brown Jug", symbol of inter-school grid supremacy for something like 25 years.

Archer's Luck

Well, as archery season is now open for the bow and arrow hunters, I begin to get anxious and inquisitive about their luck.

Each day I hear of them pulling steaks for the woods, but I'm afraid when they get into the woods, they only get for them will be a mistake. Unless they're real Robin Hoods.

Some say, "Those archers have all the breaks for hunting." "Why, they have a whole month to hunt and in some counties may shoot, either buck or doe."

"Sure, anybody could bring home steak with such a break."

But do you know their chance is a difficult one with only a stick and a string to hunt with, and one must be a first class marksman with a bow in order to hit anything. Their chance to hit a deer might be one in a hundred.

Maybe if they'd unstring their bows and made a loop in the string they'd have better luck lassoing their deer.

Well, any way we should give them credit for having the courage to try getting their game the hard way.

Army's Mule Still Good But Not Quite What It Used To Be

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Army mule ain't what she used to be but when it comes time to hand out the Lambert trophy for Eastern gridiron supremacy don't be surprised if a general is on hand to collect the silver.

After three years of Blanchard and Davis, the Cadet football team now looks like a wild west movie without shooting. Nevertheless the 1947 Black Knights of the Hudson most likely will take good care of their sectional rivals despite their stuttering backfield.

Army's strength is in the line this year. The Cadets didn't have a powderpuff forward wall last fall either, but the Mules never get much attention when such crowd pleasers as "B" and "D" are around, not to mention Arnold Tucker.

Coach Red Black's men, who whipped Villanova and Colorado before the Illinois draw, shouldn't have too much trouble in their next three games. The West Pointers meet Virginia Tech Saturday, Columbia the week after and then take on Washington and Lee.

Then comes the big one—with Notre Dame. This will be the last encounter between the two great rivals for some time. Before they hit South Bend on Nov. 8, the Cadets will have a more potent attack than they've displayed so far.

Gabardine Topcoats

Anderson-Bloom

Munising's team is in good shape for the Newberry game, Coach Bob Villeneuve said yesterday. Last week's tilt at Manistique was a hard, grueling affair, but Mather players are sporting no serious injuries.

Sammy Baugh's Hand Preserved For Posterity

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—Now future generations can see for themselves exactly what the hand of a topflight football thrower should look like.

Sammy Baugh's right mitt has been sculptured.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins and Baugh's employer, called in the press yesterday for a look at this deathless work.

"Look at those fingers," said Marshall. "Note how long they are. Also note how strong each finger is, especially the middle finger. Is it any wonder he's the top passer in the world today?"

Without waiting for an answer, Marshall rolled on.

"Mrs. Marshall had this hand made for me as a birthday present. She gave another one, just like it, to Mrs. Baugh."

"Everyone knows that Baugh is a great passer. But this hand, I think, illustrates why he also is the best in the business at holding the ball for field goals and kicks after touchdowns."

Baugh, in his cowboy boots and his 7½ gallon hat, wandered by and a reporter promptly grabbed him to ask:

"Do you think your big hands are the secret of your success?"

"Nope," said Baugh. "Lots of fellows with little hands pass all right."

After another moment's thought, Baugh added:

"Lots of our tackles have huge hands—and they can't pass at all."

Another pause, another Baughism:

"Still, I reckon I do all right."

Which pretty well sums it up, folks. On Baugh, the hand looks good.

Wolverine Plays Okeh as Then Are, Crisler Decides

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 16 (AP)—The same plays that enabled Michigan to roll up huge scores in downing its first three opponents this year probably will come into use again Saturday when the Wolverine football squad faces its first Western Conference rival, North Western.

Coach Fritz Crisler has virtually ignored new formations this week as he put his aggressive squad through its paces, indicating he intends to string along with successful combinations used in the opening clashes.

However, he gave the team extra drill on pass defense, anticipating a good aerial attack from the Wildcats.

New Reforestator Speeds Up Planting Of Michigan Trees

East Lansing—(P)—A reforestator developed for the mechanical planting of trees by the Michigan State College Forestry Department was demonstrated at the two-day meeting of the central states section of the American forestry society at Higgins Lake Friday and Saturday.

The mechanical planter, now in commercial production, can plant up to 9,000 trees a day compared to the former quota of 300 trees that could be set out by hand planting.

New forest fire fighting equipment, including cars equipped with two-way radios, also was demonstrated at the meeting.

The Greeks and Romans often levied tributes in terms of pepper, then valued highly as a staple article of trade.

GRAPHIC INTERFERENCE — Forced out of bounds in the first period of a night game with Kansas State in the Hub, Boston College back Will DeKosa bowls over a photographer. The lensman was penalized five yards, took time out. The Eagles smothered the Wildcats, 49-13.

Big Six Title at Stake in Sooner, Kansas Grid Clash

Kansas City, Oct. 16 (AP)—The rugged Oklahoma Sooners and Kansas University's rapid-fire, pass-minded Jayhawks will clash at Norman, Okla., Saturday in a game that may result in the earliest settlement of a Big Six conference football title in recent years.

Coach George Sauer's Jayhawks and the Oklahoma Sooners, coached by youthful Charles (Bud) Wilkinson, will do their chores before a capacity crowd of more than 30,000.

Barring a major upset later in the season, the winner of this tilt between the conference's defending co-champions likely will be able to hoist the pennant in late November and be in line for a post season Bowl bid.

Babe, Patty, Betty Are 150, 151, 152 in Hardscrabble Golf

For Smith Ark., Oct. 16 (AP)—Mildred "Babe" Zaharias of Denver, Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Betty Jameson of San Antonio led in that order as nine entrants started today on the second 36 holes of medal play in the Hardscrabble Country Club Women's Open Golf tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias' total after 18-hole rounds Tuesday and yesterday was 150. The other two followed with 151 and 152, respectively.

Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., scored 81-159.

Semi-finals were carded for today in the tournament's match play division. In the championship flight Mrs. Gordon Perrin of El Dorado Ark., was to meet Ed Dell Wortz of Fort Smith and Patty Blanton of Enid, Okla., was to play Mrs. Carl Robbins of Fort Smith.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—ORDER OF THE CONSERVATION COMMISSION—WATERFOWL—LITTLE BAY DE NOC.
The Director of Conservation, having made a thorough investigation of conditions as they refer to hunting of waterfowl in the area named, recommends certain regulations.
THEREFORE, The Conservation Commission, by authority of Act 230, P. A. 1925, hereby orders that for a period of five years from October 1, 1946, it shall be unlawful to hunt, take, or kill or attempt to hunt, take, or kill any waterfowl on that part of Little Bay de Noc described as follows: Beginning at a point one-half mile east of the easternmost extremity of Lot 2, Section 29, Town 39 North, Range 22 West, commonly known as Sand Point, thence west to Sand Point, thence southeasterly along the shoreline of Little Bay de Noc to the easternmost extremity of Lot 4, Section 31, Town 39 North, Range 22 West, commonly known as Brewery Point, thence east to a point directly south of place of beginning, thence north to place of beginning, as defined by posters and buoys.
Signed, sealed, and ordered published this tenth day of June, 1946.
